9 Pillars of Personal Leadership

How to Effortlessly Cultivate Followers, Freedom, and Wealth
by Leading with Who You Are

By Jane Chin, Ph.D.

1. Shift Your Talent Equation.

Shift from asking “How may I gain?”
To “How may I serve?”

2. Regenerate through Generosity.

Find out what you can give away
that gives Life back to you.

Give this away, every single day.

3. Curb Your Approval Addiction.

Your ego is addicted to being popular, looking good, being liked, getting pats on the back, receiving stamps of approval, compliments, everyone agreeing, being special, winning and succeeding all the time.

...you become braver to be true to yourself when you're not addicted.

4. Burn Your Bridges.

Give yourself no option about doing the right thing.

5. Own Your Successes and Failures.

Failures are the teachers
who make your life miserable,
but ultimately show you what matters
most about yourself and about life.

6. Action is the True Metric.

You can talk all you want,
but no one can follow you
until you start walking.

7. The Way is “One”.

The surest way to make a difference/change your life/serve the world / {whatever!} is
ONE.

(one person, one action, one moment at a time.)

8. Move Your Modus Operandi.

Shift the way you work
from

Competition → Coopetition → Collaboration → Cocreation.

9. Start.

Start. Start Now.

(can you imagine Nike spending $20M to come up with an slogan that says, “Just think about it”?)

Shift Your Talent Equation

Turn Competition
Into Cocreation

Regenerate Through Generosity

$f(1) = \Delta$

ACT!

Curb Your Approval Addiction

Measure Your Actions

Burn Your Bridge
of Excuses

Own Your Successes
And Your Failures
